CHSS Match Internship Program

Information for Employers

Rowan’s CHSS Match Program creates opportunities for you to connect with students qualified to meet their internship needs.

Let our trained student staff members assist you in finding interns with the skills you need.
The CHSS Match Program screens and prepares students for internship opportunities. We assist Rowan students enrolled in the following majors within the College of Humanities and Social Sciences:

- Africana Studies
- American Studies
- English
- Exploratory Studies
- Foreign Languages and Literatures
- Geography and Environment
- History
- Law and Justice Studies
- Liberal Studies: Humanities/Social Science
- Philosophy and Religion Studies
- Political Science and Economics
- Sociology and Anthropology

Students who are successful in these majors possess skills in critical thinking, written and oral communication, creative problem-solving, research and analysis, and interpersonal understanding. Studies show that these are the skills employers value—and that workers with these skills can advance quickly if given an initial opportunity. The CHSS Match Internship Program is designed to benefit both students and employers.

Frequently asked questions about the CHSS Match Internship Program

Q. How do I get started?

A. Contact the CHSS Match Internship Program at 856-256-4239 or CHSSMatch@rowan.edu. Provide a job description, if available, and your contact information. One of our trained student staff members will contact you within 48 hours to gather detailed information about the internship opportunity you have available and the skills, experience, and disposition you are seeking in an intern.

Q. How are internship applicants screened?

A. Our student staff members, working under the direction of a faculty member and a career counselor within the Career Management Center, will solicit student resumes for your internship position. Interested students are then interviewed in person to ensure they meet the basic qualifications for your internship opening. They may also receive training in professionalism, workplace etiquette, and interviewing techniques.

Potential student candidates will be referred to you only after they are screened and selected by the CHSS Match Program.

Q. What other details do I need to know?

A. Most of our interns are earning academic credit for their internship experience with you. Because of that, we expect you to do more than assign them clerical duties. Let them put their communication, research, and problem-solving skills to work for you while you assist them with learning skills useful in your area of service, production, or expertise.

To earn credit that would be the equivalent of a three-credit course, interns should work for about 10 hours a week for 13 weeks. We expect the intern and employer to keep a log of the hours worked and the major assignments completed. Your intern will also be keeping an informal journal of on-the-job experiences, submit a mid-term progress report and final report of accomplishments, and write a culminating essay reflecting on the internship experience.

We welcome paid internships, but students who are earning academic credit are often happy to accept unpaid internships.

If at any time you have questions or concerns about the CHSS Match Program, please let us know. We are willing to work with you and your intern to resolve difficulties if necessary, and at the end of the internship we will ask for your honest evaluation so that we can continue to improve our program.
