

ROWAN UNIVERSITY PRESENTS
THE 10TH ANNUAL

Rosa Parks Luncheon

FEATURING CIVIL RIGHTS ACTIVIST

Joan Trumpauer Mulholland

Tuesday, March 3, 2015
11 a.m., Eynon Ballroom
Chamberlain Student Center
Glassboro, NJ

Plan to join the Rowan University community in welcoming civil rights activist Joan Trumpauer Mulholland to celebrate the leadership and spirit of Rosa Parks

One of the original Freedom Riders, Joan Trumpauer Mulholland was imprisoned in Mississippi's notorious Parchman Penitentiary. Participating in more than three dozen protests since the age of 19, she became one of the first white students to integrate Tougaloo College in Jackson, Mississippi, and one of the first whites to join historically black sorority Delta Sigma Theta, Inc.
