

From Normal to Extraordinary

Join the Rowan University College of Education as we honor our roots as a teacher preparation college - what was then referred to as a “normal school” - and the 100-year journey that led to our extraordinary status today. We are proud to present the following events which celebrate the momentous occasion of our College of Education’s centennial celebration.

Please note additional events are forthcoming. Visit education.rowan.edu/centennial for up-to-date information on programs, as well as photos, video, articles, and more about our college and its history.
